Our tip:

You may also create your own floor by combining various widths and mixes of, for example Antique and Historical.

Oak Traditional
The classic variant.
Simple and rustic
with filled knots.

Oak Traditional White
This rustic plank contains a pale white pigment for a more subdued overall effect.

Oak Stonewashed Old Grey
The expressive grain of the oak boards is emphasised by oiling with a clear shade of colour.
It is particularly striking due to the brushed surface.

Oak Antique
Thanks to the stained surface
the board exudes the charm of naturally matured wood.

Oak Historical
Knots are replaced by hand with irregular shaped knots and finished with an antique stain to give an old aged looking floor.

Oak Highland Partially filled knots lend this plank a naturally aged look.
Its spectrum of colours ranges from light grey to sandy shades. Brushed.

Oak Yellowstone
These planks have a warm sandy natural tone. Brushed.
The knots are natural and partially filled.

Oak Tobacco Oak Tobacco is brushed and stained with a rich smoky colour. This vintage character is additionally enhanced by only partially filled knots.
